Todd K. Foster is an associate in the Philadelphia office of Rawle & Henderson LLP. He has represented insurance carriers and self-insured organizations in workers' compensation matters for 15 years. Todd has appeared before nearly all of the Workers' Compensation Judges in Pennsylvania, having worked in both the eastern and western portions of the Commonwealth. He has successfully argued cases at the Commonwealth Court level.

Todd earned his J.D. from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law in 2002. While attending law school, he participated in the Low Income Tax Clinic and was awarded the CALI Award for the highest grade in the clinic. He served an externship with the Honorable David B. Torrey, a Workers' Compensation Judge, during the summer of 2001. In addition, Todd was awarded a scholarship from the Erie County Bar Association.

He earned his B.A. in Economics, cum laude, from Allegheny College in 1999. Todd received an Alden Scholar Award at Allegheny College.

Todd is admitted to practice in Pennsylvania.

Prior to joining Rawle & Henderson LLP, Todd was an attorney with a workers' compensation law firm in Philadelphia.
