

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

Local legal marketing professionals Trish Lilley, chief marketing officer of Fox Rothschild; Jim Jarrell, director of marketing and practice development at Stark & Stark; and Jamie Mulholland of Jamie Mulholland Marketing, prepare to speak at the Legal Marketing Association conference, held March 27-29 in Las Vegas. The trio presented a program titled “Goldilocks and the 3 Career Paths,” a reflection on their current leadership/entrepreneurial roles and how they got there, to help others in the profession understand the opportunities and challenges that lie ahead, should they choose one of those paths. Pictured, from left, are Lilley, Jarrell and Mulholland.

ELECTED AND APPOINTED

Duane Morris named partners Wayne A. Mack and Sharon L. Caffrey as vice chairs of the firm’s trial practice group.

Mack has served as co-chair of the commercial, securities and antitrust division of Duane Morris’ trial practice group.

He counsels and represents public and private businesses and their owners, officers and directors in negotiations, mediation and litigation involving complex commercial law matters with particular emphasis on antitrust, securities law, shareholder derivative suits and class actions.

Caffrey has served as chair of the products liability and toxic torts division of the trial practice group.

She concentrates her practice in the areas of mass tort, products liability and toxic tort litigation.

Her trial experience also includes trying to verdict dozens of products liability, mass tort, health effects and medical negligence cases to verdict.

Stradley Ronon Stevens & Young attorney Karl S. Myers was appointed secretary and treasurer of the Pennsylvania Bar Association’s appellate advocacy committee.

The appellate advocacy committee promotes communication and cooperation between lawyers who practice before state and federal appellate courts and members of the judiciary.

Myers is an appellate lawyer who has argued and briefed dozens of cases before the appellate courts of Pennsylvania and other jurisdictions.

He maintains a particular focus on cases before the Pennsylvania Supreme, Commonwealth and Superior courts, including litigation involving state constitutional challenges, insurance insolvency and regulatory matters, Pennsylvania Right-to-Know Law requests, government contracting and bid-protest disputes, complex commercial actions and many other types of civil cases.

ADDITIONS

Christina A. Gonzales joined the Philadelphia office of Rawle & Henderson as an associate.

She concentrates her law practice on environmental, toxic and mass tort litigation matters.

Gonzales earned her law degree from the Widener University School of Law.

While attending law school, she worked as a paralegal for a criminal and civil defense firm in Philadelphia from 2003-08.

In the summer of 2007, she served as a legal intern for a law firm in Guatemala City.

Gonzales is admitted to practice in Pennsylvania and New Jersey and is a member of the Philadelphia Bar Association.

SPEAKERS

On Wednesday, Jessica Pritchard, a partner of Antheil Maslow & MacMinn and chair of the firm’s family law practice group, is set to present at the Pennsylvania Bar Institute family law institute at the CLE Conference Center in Philadelphia.

Her program is scheduled to include guidelines for support, custody and protection from abuse geared specifically to the lawyer whose practice does not focus primarily on family law.

She is also set to offer insights and practical tips to assist clients and strategies to identify pitfalls in these areas of practice. •