

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

Rawle & Henderson participated in the 2017 Philadelphia Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure in May and raised over $7,000 to help find a cure for breast cancer. The firm won the race category “Law Firms for the Fight” by raising more funds than any other participating law firm. Over the last 10 years, Rawle & Henderson’s team has raised over $78,500. Rawle & Henderson’s 2017 race team, “Higgins and Sabo Present Harvan’s Heroes,” was captained by Patrice S. O’Brien, of counsel to the firm. Rawle & Henderson honored for the third year in a row Christine Harvan, the firm’s longtime law librarian, who lost her battle against breast cancer in March 2015. They also honored, for the 10th year in a row, the firm’s former partner, Ann-Michele Higgins, who lost her struggle with breast cancer in September 2007, and for the fourth year in a row Nancy J. Sabo, wife of firm partner Michael G. Sabo, who lost her courageous fight against breast cancer in January 2014.

SPEAKERS

On July 28, Andrew Sacks is set to participate in a panel discussion of marijuana laws for nine East Coast states at the National Cannabis Bar Association’s Cannabis Law Institute in Denver.

Within the framework of Sacks Weston Diamond, Sacks maintains his dual interests in general practice law and environmental law, with special focus on pursuing litigation against any company or industry that damages the environment or injures property or individuals.

Sacks is also heavily involved with medical marijuana and industrial hemp law formation, regulation and updates in Pennsylvania.

He is admitted to practice in all Pennsylvania state courts, as well as the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Third and Sixth circuits.

ADDITIONS

Antheil Maslow & MacMinn added Jamie M. Jamison to the firm’s family law practice group.

Jamison practices exclusively in the area of family law where she handles all phases of the negotiation and litigation of domestic relations cases, including divorce, equitable distribution, child custody, spousal support/alimony, child support, protection from abuse and prenuptial and postnuptial agreements.

Jamison received her bachelor’s and law degree from Villanova University.

She is admitted to practice before the Pennsylvania bar, the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit.

ELECTED AND APPOINTED

Mount Laurel, New Jersey, law firm Parker McCay promoted Alexis Batten, John Rigden and Kiera McFadden-Roan from associate to counsel.

Batten joined the firm as a public finance associate in 2008.

Batten concentrates her practice in the area of public finance, with a focus on municipalities, school districts, economic development and redevelopment.

McFadden-Roan has been with the firm’s creditors’ rights area since 2009.

Admitted in 2007, McFadden-Roan litigates matters on behalf of her clients, including foreclosure litigation, title litigation and municipal violations.

Rigden focuses his practice solely on the defense of New Jersey hospitals and health care practitioners as both lead trial counsel and in the appellate courts.

A member of the firm’s medical malpractice group, he was both admitted to the bar and joined the firm in 2011.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Legal and Pennsylvania Law Weekly are looking for verdicts and settlements to report.

If you’re a plaintiffs or defense attorney who has obtained a verdict or settlement in Pennsylvania county or federal court recently, email Zack Needles at zneedles@alm.com. •